IN RE: THE PETITION FOR DECLARATORY
STATEMENT OF:

JUDY NORRIE, L.P.N.
Case No.: BON-DS-91-03

FLORIDA STATE
BOARD OF NURSING

FINAL ORDER

This matter came before the Board of Nursing pursuant to Section 120.565, Florida Statutes, and Rules 210-6.018 and 28-4.001-.007, Florida Administrative Code, on October 11, 1991, in Orlando, Florida, for the purpose of considering the Petition for Declaratory Statement filed by Judy Norrie. Additional materials were requested and considered by the Board of Nursing at subsequent meetings on December 6, 1991, and February 14, 1992. Having considered the Petition and supporting documentation, course curricula, office protocols, pertinent status and rules, requests to "grandmother" petitioner, and testimony from Petitioner and interested parties, the Board of Nursing makes the following factual findings and conclusions of law.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Judy Norrie is a licensed practical nurse in the State of Florida. She works in the dental office of Robert C. Moomaw, D.D.S., M.S.D. She asks whether she can administer local intra-oral injection anesthesia to the soft tissue of periodontal patients under a periodontist's direct supervision, specifically that of Dr. Moomaw.

2. Section 464.003(3)(b), Florida Statutes, in pertinent part reads:

"Practice of practical nursing" means the performance of selected acts, including the administration of treatments and medications, in the care of the ill, injured, or infirm and the promotion of wellness, maintenance of health, and prevention of illness of others under the direction of a registered nurse, a licensed physician, a licensed osteopathic physician, a licensed podiatrist, or a licensed dentist.

3. Practical nursing education programs in the State of Florida are subject to review and approval by the Board of Nursing. Section 464.019, Florida Statutes. The standard curricula for these programs are subject to Board approval and must meet the requirements of Rule 210-7.025(3), Florida Administrative Code. The training and education is for a considerably shorter duration than that for professional nurses with respect to the subjects covered and the clinical training. Because of inherent dangers in the use and administration of any anesthesia, the Board finds that practical nurses are not qualified by education and training to administer local anesthesia intra-orally. The Board declines to consider "grandmothering" petitioner to permit continued practice of this procedure. Ms. Norrie had performed for a period of time prior to filing this petition.

4. The Board further finds that as technology and training progress in the health care field, techniques which years before may have been performed by a few specialists now may be handled by any number of practitioners in the health care professions at the present time. Nurses, including practical nurses, must continue their education through Board approved continuing education and frequently through employer education and training. At some future point, the standard of practice within the nursing community may have progressed to expect the licensed practical nurse, in some circumstances, to be qualified to administer local anesthesia within a dental setting.
